How it works:

Frequently asked questions

■ Does the annual G7N membership fee include financial protection? What is the coverage?

G7N members are financially protected up to 10,000 USD per transaction between network participants and $50,000 collectively across the course of the year.

■ G7N offers PR and marketing services, what can we expect from G7N?

G7N offers multiple forms of support within PR and Marketing not only through our internal Members News, Bulletins & Social media platforms but also in various media outlets. This allows you to reach more inter-network members and also new external clients for your business.

■ How do you qualify “Trusted and professional global freight forwarding partners” within G7N?

Each prospective member company is required to submit strong commercial references to satisfy the requirements of the management of G7N. It is imperative for you to prove your expertise in your local markets and ensure that you have a positive reputation with other agents and carriers as well as that your company has professional leadership with integrity in order to be enrolled.

■ May a company list multiple locations with G7N Logistics Networks?

G7N does accept multiple offices from prospective members this does come at a surcharge per additional office and falls down to availability within that specific market.

■ Is it mandatory to attend the annual conference?

It isn't mandatory to attend the G7N annual conference however meeting with the members will only yield better long term results by meeting face to face. Failure to attend more than 3 consecutive conferences will leave your renewal under scrutiny from the G7N management.
